

Gator "Grad"-tude

My post-secondary success was measured against many students who didn't have the tools to properly excel at the collegiate level. Long, sleepless nights, excess stress, and constant confusion were common elements in these students. GVHS helped me by not only helping me learn all the information I needed for general education credits, but how to apply myself to subject areas in which I was unfamiliar. Green Valley High School's commitment to excellence stays with me, and I plan to apply the values I learned to my future students in the classroom.
