

FACING STRESS

Even when we believe we should do something, it's human nature to avoid doing it if we're afraid or stressed. The more we delay action, the more afraid or stressed we get, and our fear can soon become irrational. Therefore, when there's something you should do but are afraid, do it anyway, and do it sooner rather than later. Remember, the best day to procrastinate is TOMORROW!
