

Faith

If uncertainty is an inescapable condition of being human, we need faith in a belief system, in another person, or in ourselves.
