

Controlled Learning

Everything we choose to do or experience changes us in some way. We call this change LEARNING. Sometimes we do things accidentally, and other times we have experiences caused directly or indirectly by accidents. It seems that learning can be controlled or accidental.

Which is the better way to learn?