

Watching Movies vs. Reading Books

Movies limit your imagination while reading books frees it. This is so because movies provide pictures for you while reading allows your mind to create them yourself.