

PRIDE

We all feel proud of ourselves when we believe we've said or done something worthwhile that required some courage and perseverance. Ironically, self-pride is the deadliest of the "seven deadly sins." So be careful when you have reason for prideful feelings because you may be about to embarrass yourself. It's good to remember that pride comes before the fall.