

Steve Jobs on Trust

CEO* of APPLE® CORPORATION and PIXAR®

NEVER GRADUATED FROM COLLEGE

*From 2005 commencement address
at Stanford University:*

"You have to trust that the dots will somehow connect in your future. You have to trust in something, your gut, destiny, life, karma, whatever.

Believing that the dots will connect down the road will give you the confidence to follow your heart, even when it leads you off the well worn path, and that will make all the difference."

* Chief Executive Officer
