

Quality of leadership determines the well-being of people in a totalitarian government. The well-being of people in a democracy depends more on the quality of followership.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?